Vaccinating for viral diseases just got easier

Introducing The Puppyshot:™ Duramune® DA$_2$PP+CvK

Now you can give your puppy patients the most complete viral disease protection available . . . in a convenient 1 ml dose: new Duramune DA$_2$PP+CvK, The Puppyshot.™

This major technological breakthrough is the easy way to provide comprehensive protection against distemper, adenovirus and parainfluenza, plus parvovirus and coronavirus, the two leading causes of viral enteritis.

Assurance of protection against both coronavirus and parvovirus

Against coronavirus, The Puppyshot,™ enhanced with Stimulin,™ a unique dual adjuvant system, is 99.3% effective. Proven through host challenge studies.[1] Stops viral infection in the gut. Stimulates local secretory antibodies providing protection at the site of infection. And, will cross protect against multiple strains of coronavirus.

Against parvovirus, The Puppyshot™ carries puppies from passive to active immunity without a gap in protection. It's the only parvo product powerful enough to be labeled for one dose at 12 weeks of age. Plus it provides rapid protection against the recently isolated variant strain of parvo.

In addition, The Puppyshot™ protects against 3 other serious viral diseases

- ☐ Distemper–The time proven FDL/Rockborn strain of distemper virus provides the efficacy your patients need with the safety you want.
- ☐ Adenovirus Type 2 (CAV$_2$)–Protects against both CAV$_1$ and CAV$_2$ without the incidence of blue eye associated with CAV$_1$.
- ☐ Parainfluenza–Helps provide protection against viral respiratory disease which can be severe in puppies.

Make sure your patients get the most complete viral disease protection available in one shot. Order a supply of The Puppyshot™ from your Fort Dodge representative or service center today.

FOREWORD

The AVMA Directory lists AVMA members in the United States, Canada, and other countries and those nonmember veterinarians for whom data is available in AVMA records and who ask to be listed. The listings and statistics contained in the AVMA Directory do not reflect the total veterinary population in the United States or any other country. They include only the AVMA members and those nonmembers who responded to the verification survey by October 1, 1987.

We have attempted to assure the accuracy of our record data for every member during the past year. We assume that the listings are correct for those who did not reply. Anyone who discovers an error in his or her listing is asked to please advise us so that we can correct our records and future listings.

The AVMA Executive Board has approved the annual publication and distribution of the AVMA Directory to each member of the Association without additional charge.

The 1988 AVMA Directory consists of three sections:

The Alphabetical Section (pages 31 to 167) lists in alphabetic sequence the name, city, state, province, or country of each veterinarian and the member status code.

The Geographic Section (pages 175 to 431) lists, by state and town (or country), the veterinarian's name, spouse's name, full address, school and year of graduation, professional activity, type of employment, and employment function.

The Reference Section (pages 435 to 726) contains information on AVMA organization and history, names and addresses of other veterinary and related associations, federal and state government agencies, and veterinary colleges.

Our most important product decisions are made by committee.

We discovered the best way to make cat food was to go straight to the horse's mouth. Or in this case, the cat's.

Our committee of experts, along with a staff of experienced nutritionists and veterinarians at our Feline Research Center, gave us a lot to talk about.

Fancy Feast is backed by AAFCO nutritional claims.

By actually feeding our food to those tough cookies on the left, we're able to make nutritional claims proven by testing procedures established by the Association of American Feed Control Officials. Claims that say during gestation, lactation, growth, and adult maintenance, Fancy Feast gives cats all their complete nutritional needs. Claims that a lot of cat foods don't make.

Fancy Feast helps prevent FUS.

Fancy Feast's formulation makes cats' urine more acidic. And a low urine pH has been shown to resist the formulation of struvite, one of the leading known causes of Feline Urological Syndrome.

Fancy Feast is preferred 2 to 1.

This committee told us another thing or two. Like how Fancy Feast's fresh aroma and palatability whets their appetite. And that they preferred Fancy Feast's fresh single serving 2 to 1 over other canned cat food that's been opened and refrigerated.

Our committee told us an awful lot about Fancy Feast. And we took their advice. Which is why we happen to think Fancy Feast is the best cat food on the market. And why it's the one cat food you should recommend for all stages of a cat's life.

Just ask the experts.

A·H·ROBINS

All you need for restraint or surgery

Introducing Telazol®: the only injectable dissociative anesthetic/tranquillizer combination approved for dogs and cats.

Telazol's unique combination of equal parts (by weight of base) of tiletamine and zolazepam puts it in a class by itself. Your best choice for all procedures, from exam to surgery, where an anesthetic-tranquilizer combination is indicated, including all diagnostic exams, teeth cleaning, wound and laceration repairs, draining of abscesses, castrations, and ovariohysterectomies and onychectomies (cats).

The tiletamine advantage: Tiletamine's dissociative anesthetic properties stop pain reflexes while still maintaining protective coughing and swallowing reflexes. That's important because by maintaining pharyngeal-laryngeal reflexes, the preservation of a patent airway is greatly enhanced.

The zolazepam advantage: Zolazepam is a non-phenothiazine tranquilizer and provides good muscle relaxant effects during all surgical and non-surgical procedures.

In short, Telazol provides many desirable features in one anesthetic agent: rapid onset of action usually occurring within 5 to 12 minutes of IM injection, profound analgesia, good muscle relaxation, cataleptoid anesthesia, maintenance of coughing and swallowing reflexes, and generally smooth recoveries. You can use it with confidence because when used at recommended doses Telazol has a proven safety margin of 2X in dogs, 4.6X in cats.

Make Telazol your routine choice for all procedures. Ask your distributor representative about it today. A trusted veterinary product from A.H. Robins Company, Richmond, VA 23220-6609. A·H·ROBINS

brand of guaifenesin
(formerly "glyceryl guaiacolate") sterile powder

Time-tested and proven central-acting skeletal muscle relaxant for horses. Conveniently packaged to fit your method of usage.

Description

An intravenous muscle relaxant for horses which provides smooth induction and recovery. Can be used alone for muscle relaxation or mixed with thiamylal sodium for anesthesia. Pyrogen-free.

This provides 50 mg of guaifenesin and 2 mg of thiamylal sodium per ml of solution and is also dosed at 1 ml per pound of body weight by rapid intravenous infusion.

How Supplied

Guailaxin (guaifenesin) Sterile Powder is supplied 50 g per container in 4 oz. containers and 32 oz. containers.

Dopram®-V

brand of
Doxapram Hydrchloride

BRIEF SUMMARY
(Before prescribing or administering, see full prescribing information.)

Indications: For dogs, cats and horses: (1) to stimulate respiration during and after general anesthesia; (2) to speed awakening and return of reflexes after anesthesia.

For neonate dogs and cats: (1) to initiate respirations following dystocia or cesarean section; (2) to stimulate respirations following dystocia or cesarean section.

Dosage and Administration: The action of Dopram-V is rapid, usually beginning in a few seconds. The duration and intensity of response depend upon the dose, the condition of the animal at the time the drug is administered, and depth of anesthesia. Repeated doses should not be given until the effects of the first dose have passed and the condition of the patient requires it. Dosage should be adjusted for depth of anesthesia, respiratory volume and rate. Dosage can be repeated in 15 to 20 minutes, if necessary.

	Barbiturate Anes.	Gas Anes.
Dogs and Cats	2.5 to 5.0 mg/lb.	0.5 mg/lb.
Horses	0.25 mg/lb.	0.2 mg/lb.

Neonates: canine 1-5 drops, feline 1-2 drops.

Caution: For intravenous use only in dogs, cats and horses. May be administered subcutaneously, sublingually (topically) or via umbilical vein in neonatal puppies and either subcutaneously or sublingually (topically) in neonatal kittens. Do not mix with alkaline solutions. Dopram-V is neither an antagonist of muscle relaxant drugs nor a specific narcotic antagonist. Doses of Dopram-V should be adjusted to meet the requirements of the situation. Excessive doses may produce hyperventilation which may lead to respiratory alkalosis. A patent air passageway is essential. Adequate, but not excessive, doses should be used and the blood pressure and reflexes should be checked periodically.

Supplied: Dopram-V (doxapram hydrochloride) is available in 20 ml multiple dose vials of the sterile solution. Each 1 ml contains 20 mg doxapram hydrochloride.

Telazol® CIII

injectable anesthetic agent

BRIEF SUMMARY
(Before prescribing or administering, see full prescribing information.)

Description: Telazol is a nonnarcotic, nonbarbiturate, injectable anesthetic agent for dogs and cats. Chemically, Telazol is a combination of equal parts by weight of base of tiletamine hydrochloride and zolazepam hydrochloride.

Indications: In cats, for restraint or for anesthesia combined with muscle relaxation. In dogs, for restraint and minor procedures of short duration (30 min. avg.) requiring mild to moderate analgesia.

Dosage and Administration: Telazol is well tolerated by dogs and cats and should be administered by deep intramuscular injection. For dogs: low dosage, 3.0—4.5 mg/lb., medium dosage, 4.5—6.0 mg/lb., high dosage, not in excess of 12 mg/lb. (initial dose plus supplemental dose or doses). For cats: low dosage, 4.4—5.4 mg/lb., medium dosage, 4.8—5.7 mg/lb., high dosage, not in excess of 32.7 mg/lb. (initial dose plus supplemental dose or doses).

Contraindications: The use of Telazol is contraindicated in dogs and cats with pancreatic disease or severe cardiac or pulmonary dysfunction. Also, should not be used in pregnant bitches or queens at any stage of pregnancy; or for Cesarean section.

Supplied: Telazol is available in individual (5 ml) vials. Each vial contains equal parts of tiletamine hydrochloride and zolazepam hydrochloride for a total of 500 mg active drug as the free base.

Guailaxin®

brand of
Guaifenesin Sterile Powder

BRIEF SUMMARY
(Before prescribing or administering, see full prescribing information.)

Indications: Guailaxin (guaifenesin) is indicated for intravenous administration for muscle relaxation in horses.

Dosage and Administration: 50 grams of guaifenesin sterile powder is mixed with sufficient warm USP sterile water to make 1 liter of solution. This 5% solution is given by rapid intravenous infusion at a dose of 1 ml per pound of body weight. The duration of action is usually 10-20 minutes for a single dose. When thiamylal sodium is to be added, 2 g of the barbiturate should be added to the 50 g Guailaxin sterile powder prior to dissolving in USP sterile water to make 1 liter of solution. This provides 2 mg of thiamylal sodium and 50 mg of guaifenesin per ml of solution. This solution is also dosed at 1 ml per pound of body weight and administered by rapid intravenous infusion.

Contraindications: Administration of physostigmine is contraindicated in horses receiving guaifenesin.

Precautions: Perivascular leakage should be avoided. Do not use in concentrations greater than 5%. Use caution when anesthetizing anemic or hypovolemic animals with cardiac or respiratory problems. Oxygen should be available when guaifenesin is used in conjunction with barbiturates or tranquilizers.

Supplied: Guailaxin (guaifenesin) sterile powder is supplied 50 grams per container in 4 oz. and 32 oz. containers.

Robamox®-V Tablets/Robamox®-V Veterinary Oral Suspension

brand of Amoxicillin

BRIEF SUMMARY
(Before prescribing or administering, see full prescribing information.)

Indications: Robamox®-V (amoxicillin) tablets and suspension are indicated in the treatment of the following infections in dogs when caused by susceptible strains of organisms:

Bacterial dermatitis due to Staphylococcus aureus, Streptococcus spp., Staphylococcus spp., and E. coli.

Soft tissue infections (abscesses, wounds, lacerations) due to Staphylococcus aureus, Streptococcus spp., E. coli, Proteus mirabilis, and Staphylococcus spp.

As is true with all antibiotic therapy, appropriate in vitro cultures and sensitivities should be conducted prior to treatment.

Contraindications: Use of amoxicillin is contraindicated in animals with a history of an allergic reaction to penicillin.

Adverse Reactions: Amoxicillin is a semisynthetic penicillin and, therefore, has the potential for producing allergic reactions. Epinephrine and/or steroids should be administered if an allergic reaction occurs.

Warning: For use in dogs only.

Precautions: Until adequate reproductive studies are accomplished, Robamox®-V tablets or suspension should not be used in pregnant or breeding animals.

Caution: Federal law restricts this drug to use by or on the order of a licensed veterinarian.

Supplied: Tablets—50 mg, 100 mg, and 200 mg strengths in bottles of 500 and 1,000 tablets; 400 mg strength in bottles of 250 and 500 tablets. Suspension—15 and 30 ml vials. When reconstituted as directed, each ml will contain 50 mg of amoxicillin.

Robaxin® -V

brand of Methocarbamol

BRIEF SUMMARY
(Before presribing or administering, see full prescribing information.)

Indications: Dogs and cats: ORAL AND INTRAVENOUS. Horses: INTRAVENOUS. Robaxin-V is indicated as an adjunct to therapy of acute inflammatory and traumatic conditions of skeletal muscle to reduce muscular spasms and ligamentous strains.

Dosage and Administration: INJECTABLE. Dogs and cats: For relief of moderate conditions, a dose of $^1/_5$ ml per pound (20 mg per pound) body weight may be adequate. An initial dose of ¼ to 1 ml per pound of body weight is suggested for controlling the severe effects of strychnine and tetanus.

Horses: Give drug to effect; moderate conditions, a dose of 2 to 10 mg/lb.; for severe conditions (tetanus), a dose of 10 to 25 mg/lb.

TABLETS. Dogs and cats: The usual canine and feline dose of Robaxin-V is 60 mg per pound of body weight in divided doses followed by 30 or 60 mg per pound of body weight each following day. The total daily dose should be divided into 2 or 3 equal doses.

Contraindications: Robaxin-V should not be used during pregnancy unless in the judgment of the veterinarian the potential benefits outweigh the possible hazards. Robaxin-V Injectable (methocarbamol) should not be administered to patients with known or suspected renal pathology. Methocarbamol is contraindicated in patients hypersensitive to the ingredients.

Warning: Not to be used in horses intended for food.

Precautions: In dogs and cats, the rate should not exceed 2 ml per minute. Since Robaxin-V Injectable (methocarbamol) is hypertonic, vascular extravasation must be avoided. A recumbent position will reduce the likelihood of side reactions. In the horse, the most effective response is achieved by injecting rapidly through a 15 or 17 gauge needle. Blood aspirated into the syringe does not mix with the hypertonic solution. The blood may be safely injected with the methocarbamol or the injection may be stopped when the plunger reaches the blood.

Side Effects: Excessive salivation, emesis, muscular weakness and ataxia have been noted in both dogs and cats.

Supplied: Robaxin-V Injectable is supplied in 20 ml and 100 ml vials (100 mg/ml). Robaxin-V 500 mg tablets are supplied in bottles of 100 and 500.

Robinul® -V

brand of Glycopyrrolate

BRIEF SUMMARY
(Before prescribing or administering, see full prescribing information.)

Indications: Preanesthetic use for dogs and cats. Robinul-V (glycopyrrolate) is indicated for use as a preoperative agent to reduce salivary, tracheobronchial, and pharyngeal secretion; to reduce the volume and free acidity of gastric secretion; and to block cardiac vagal inhibitory reflexes during induction of anesthesia and intubation.

Dosage and Administration: Robinul-V (glycopyrrolate) Injectable may be administered intravenously, intramuscularly, or subcutaneously to dogs and intramuscularly to cats at the rate of 5 micrograms/lb. of body weight (0.25 ml per 10 pounds body weight).

Precautions: There are no absolute contraindications to the use of Robinul-V Injectable in conjunction with anesthesia except known hypersensitivity to glycopyrrolate. The excretion of Robinul-V may be prolonged in animals with impaired renal or gastrointestinal function.

Side Effects: Mild mydriasis, xerostomia, and occasional tachycardia may be seen with Robinul-V.

Supplied: Robinul-V Injectable (glycopyrrolate) is supplied in 20 ml vials (0.2 mg/ml).

Viokase® -V

Pancreatic lipase,
protease and amylase

BRIEF SUMMARY
(Before prescribing or administering, see full prescribing information.)

Description: Viokase-V is activated whole raw pancreas; a pancreatic enzyme concentrate of porcine origin containing standardized amylase, protease and lipase activities plus esterases, peptidases, nucleases and elastase.

Indications: As a digestive aid; replacement therapy where digestion of protein, carbohydrate and fat is inadequate due to exocrine pancreatic insufficiency. To aid digestion and absorption, a bland and easily digested diet containing sufficient quantities of good quality proteins and carbohydrates and low levels of fat is recommended.

Dosage and Administration: The Viokase-V tablets are administered before each meal. Viokase-V powder is added to moistened dog food (canned or dry). Thorough mixing is necessary to bring the enzymes into close contact with food particles. Incubation at room temperature for 15-20 minutes before feeding appears to enhance the digestive process. Frequent feeding, at least 3 times daily, is important.

Usual Dosage: Dogs: 2 to 3 tablets or ¾ to 1 teaspoonful with each meal. Cats: ½ to 1 tablet or ¼ to ¾ teaspoonful with each meal. NOTE: No one regimen will be successful for every patient. The above dosage should be adjusted according to the severity of the exocrine pancreatic deficiency and weight of the animal. In cases of chronic insufficiency, the dosage should be increased until desired results are obtained.

Precautions: Discontinue use in animals with symptoms of sensitivity.

Supplied: Viokase-V—425 mg each in bottles of 100 and 500. Viokase-V Powder—bottles of 4, 8 and 12 ounces.

HYLARTIN® V
sodium hyaluronate
injection 10 mg/ml

Brief summary of prescribing information

Indications: Hylartin V is indicated in the treatment of joint dysfunction in horses due to non-infectious synovitis associated with equine osteoarthritis.

Toxicology: There is always a potential immunological risk with repeated parenteral administration of biological material. As shown by Richter, however, sodium hyaluronate, of both human and avian origin, did not produce any antibodies after repeated immunization, nor did intense stimulation of the immunization process by coupling of protein to the hyaluronate and simultaneous administration of Freund's adjuvant give rise to antibodies.

Contraindications: None known.

Side Effects: The side effects observed in clinical trials were heat (15%), transient edema (12%), and pain (9%) around the treated joint. These side effects have been observed after intra-articular injection. Most of these reactions were of mild nature, and in no case did they require the discontinuance of treatment. These reactions subsided in 24 to 48 hours.

Warning: Not for use in horses intended for food. Hylartin V must not be administered intravascularly.

Dosage and Administration: 2 ml (20 mg) of Hylartin V given to horses intra-articularly in small and medium size joints (carpal, fetlock). In the treatment of larger joints (hock), the dosage is 4 ml (40 mg). The treatment may be repeated at weekly intervals for a total of three treatments.

Hylartin V should be injected in horses intra-articularly under strict aseptic conditions. Effusion should be removed prior to injection. When performing the injections, care should be taken not to scratch the cartilage surface as this may result in diffuse swelling lasting for 24 to 48 hours. This transient swelling, however, will have no effect on the ultimate clinical result. For best results, the horse should be given two days stall rest before gradually resuming normal activity.

Storage Conditions: Store at 2-8°C. The expiration date is stated on the package. Protect from freezing and light.

How Supplied: Hylartin V is supplied sterile in disposable glass syringes, each containing 20 mg (10 mg/ml) of sodium hyaluronate in 2.0 ml physiological sodium chloride-phosphate buffer.

Caution: Federal law restricts this drug to use by or on the order of a licensed veterinarian.

Used or partially used syringes should be crushed and disposed of in an approved landfill.

Do not use if numerous small air bubbles are present throughout the solution.

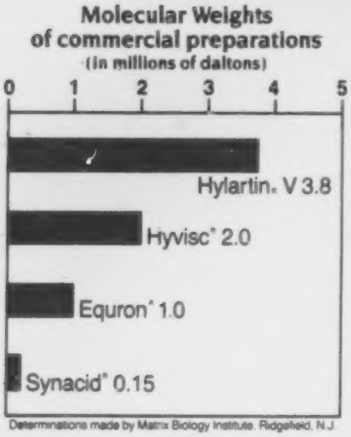
All sodium hyaluronates are not created equal.



Molecular Weights of commercial preparations (in millions of daltons)

Determinations made by Matrix Biology Institute, Ridgefield, N.J.

High molecular weight.
The Hylartin® V difference begins with its significantly high molecular weight which makes Hylartin V even more viscous than the natural synovial fluid it replaces. Other hyaluronate products are of lower molecular weight and some are in substantially less concentrated solutions.

The viscoelastic properties of Hylartin V improve its function as a barrier against decaying cells and as a joint lubricant. The natural production of synovial fluid is stimulated, helping to promote permanent healing.

A unique manufacturing process.
Pharmacia AB of Sweden, a world leader in the purification of biologics, manufactures Hylartin V from rooster combs for American Equine Products, Inc. Using a process not available to any other manufacturer, sodium hyaluronate is produced with a molecular weight averaging approximately 3.8 million daltons — far higher than competitive products.

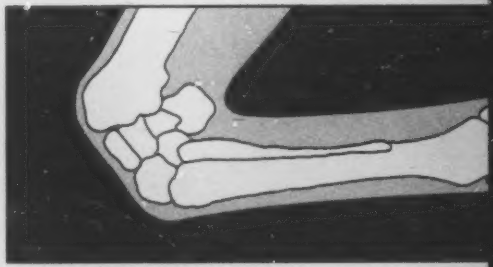
No treatment for equine joint dysfunction* is as widely discussed today as sodium hyaluronate. And with the number of hyaluronate products on the market, it is easy to conclude that they are all pretty much the same. Not so. Hylartin V, the high-molecular-weight sodium hyaluronate, is different!

A single injection is usually all it takes.
Hylartin V is so effective in promoting healing that a single injection is all that is needed in most cases. In one study, lameness was eliminated in 93% of joints treated with a single shot of Hylartin V.[1] Cumulative study results show that most horses treated were back in training within one week.[2] And Hylartin V has no known contraindications. (See adjoining column.)

Economical as well as effective.
Consider the cost of repeated dosages. Consider the resulting long term re-conditioning expenses, and the inherent risks of repetitive invasive therapy. Now consider the likelihood of a single injection with high-molecular-weight Hylartin V.

Just one shot of Hylartin V resulted in improvement of 93% of lame joints treated.

The hyaluronate with the longest track record.
Hylartin V, the first hyaluronate to gain FDA approval, has been marketed in the U.S. since November, 1984. Its documented performance record is unmatched. Ask us for a copy of clinical test findings to understand why veterinarians around the world look to Hylartin V as their best shot for safe, long-lasting results.



Hylartin V stimulates natural production of synovial fluid, allowing the joint's normal environment to re-establish itself.

Hylartin V is manufactured by Pharmacia AB, Uppsala, Sweden, for American Equine Products, Inc., 372 Ely Avenue, So. Norwalk, CT 06854. For more information, or to order Hylartin V, call (800) 524-GAIT. In Connecticut, call 85-HORSE.
